Bowing to the mob

by Mark Steyn, 22 Sept 2012

I see the Obama campaign has redesigned the American flag, and very attractive it is too. Replacing the 50 stars of a federal republic is the single “O” logo symbolizing the great gaping maw of spendaholic centralization. And where the stripes used to be are a handful of red daubs, eerily mimicking the bloody finger streaks left on the pillars of the U.S. consulate in Benghazi as its staff were dragged out by a mob of savages to be tortured and killed. What better symbol could one have of American foreign policy? Who says the slick hollow vapid marketing of the Obama campaign doesn’t occasionally intersect with reality?...

A conference titled "International Freedom Defense Congress," sponsored by Pamela Geller and Robert Spencer's organization "Stop Islamization of Nations" (SION), was appropriately scheduled in NYC for the 11th anniversary of 9/11. It also coincidentally took place while Islamic savages in Egypt were storming the U.S. Embassy and Libyan murderers were killing American diplomats over the very issue Geller, Spencer, and others were gathered to discuss: freedom of speech....

Real Unemployment at 19%

by Wynton Hall, 8 Sept 2012

...When you include the underutilized labor figure with the eight million Americans who have lost hope altogether and stopped looking for a job, real unemployment now stands at just under 19 percent. If the labor force were the same as when President Obama took office in January 2009, the unemployment rate reported on Friday would be 11.2 percent...

Investors Business Daily, 5 Sept 2012

<http://news.investors.com/ibd-editorials/090412-624523-were-not-better-off-under-obama.htm>

Only a gang of professional Democrats could possibly think the American people would approve of abandoning God and Israel. How could this have eluded the notice of what passes for the "sane" wing of the party? Easy: all Democrats nowadays are in the habit of abdicating responsibility—for passing budgets, controlling spending, constructing enormous 2,000-page bills, reading those same bills before voting on them—the list goes on and on. — Don John

Resurrection: DNC overrules delegates, rams God and Jerusalem back into platform

by Ben Shapiro, 5 Sept 2012

Tonight, the Democratic National Committee suspended the rules of the convention and inserted language regarding God and the State of Israel back to its platform. They had to vote three times to do it — and they had to lie to deem it passed, even though it was clear that the measure did not pass a voice vote in the chamber. The original 2012 Democratic Party platform had excised all mention of God and Jerusalem as the capital of the State of Israel...

...Sources also report that the language was changed "to reflect the president's personal view." This is bull. President Obama has never recognized Jerusalem as Israel's capital, and neither has his spokesperson or State Department. He has never taken a public position against the so-called "right of return," which would destroy Israel as a Jewish state. And he has publicly stated that Israel should use the 1949 armistice lines as the baseline of any future negotiations...
